

WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH: A KIDS' GUIDE TO DOING WHAT YOU LOVE

Today, and everyday, Nickelodeon celebrates women and girls who are following – or discovering! – their passions!

A passion is something that you really like to do; something that makes you happy! A passion can be just for you, something you share with your friends and family, or it could even be something you share with the world. Sometimes exploring your passion means learning new skills and trying new things. Other times it means just doing what makes you feel good!

DO WHAT YOU LOVE!

Listen to the kids from Extraordinary Me share their stories. Each one has different interests but they all have one thing in common – a passion! Whether it's robotics, storytelling, or rugby, they are doing what they love. Hobbies can boost your confidence, self-esteem, and pride! And who knows? They may even help make the world a better place!

A PASSION FOR GOOD!

Making a difference in your community can start small and have a BIG impact – stepping up for someone, helping in your community garden, or starting a club to make new friends. That's what two Girl Scouts discovered in this Nick News story. Remember, if it is dreamable, it is doable.

Nickelodeon can't wait to see what you do next!
